

United Nations Economic and Social Commission for West Asia
The National Agenda for the Future of Syria (NAFS) Programme

Training on the Water, Energy and Food Security Nexus:
Building the capacities of Syrian experts
(29 - 30 Nov - 01 December 2022 Beirut, Lebanon)

As part of its mandate to promote human development and democratic transition in the Arab region and as a response to the dire conflict in the Syrian Arab Republic, ESCWA launched the National Agenda for the Future of Syria (NAFS) in 2012 to serve as a platform for technical dialogue for a network of Syrian experts. Its inclusive approach to enhancing a culture of dialogue and promoting sustainable peace has enabled it to bring Syrians together to develop policy alternatives on the most pressing socio-economic issues.

The NAFS programme aims to support long-term sustainable livelihoods in the agricultural sector in Syria with a focus on resilience and stabilization. As part of its work, NAFS will hold a training on the Water, Energy and Food Nexus to support food security and sustainable agriculture for recovery in the Syrian Arab Republic.

The training's specific objectives include:

1. Conveying the importance of the Water, Energy and Food Security Nexus (WEF Nexus) as an integrated approach in planning, policy coherence and coordination between institutions to achieve resources sustainability and supply security in the context of recovery and post conflict.
2. Initiating a dialogue between Syrians from different sectoral backgrounds on how to mainstream WEF Nexus approach in sectoral policies and what governance structure will better support inter-sectoral coordination to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) 2, 6, 7 and 13.
3. Establishing a Community of Practice that will further support a broader network of Syrians from the three key sectors to raise awareness on the potential of the Nexus approach in "building back better and leaving no one behind".

The training targets Syrian experts in water, energy, agriculture and food security.

Young and Female candidates are highly encouraged to apply.

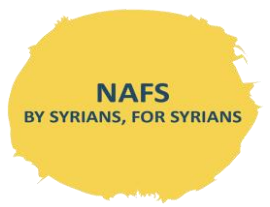

Should you be interested in joining this training, please send your CVs along with the application form to escwa-nafs@un.org or complete the Application Form (Ctrl Click).

Please note that the deadline for receiving applications is Sunday, October 9th, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Scan QR Code or (Ctrl Click) on Application Form to access online application form

Training on the Water, Energy and Food Security Nexus: Building the capacities of Syrian experts

Applicant information

Candidate Full Name:

Nationality:

Date of Birth:

Place of Residence:

Area(s) of expertise/practice:

Location where you work/worked in Syria?

Current work (if any), job title &
Organization:

English Proficiency (Reading and comprehension):

Fluent

Intermediate

Basic

Contact phone number(s):

Contact email:

Training on the Water, Energy and Food Security Nexus: Building the capacities of Syrian experts

Candidate evaluation

Years of practice in the relevant fields:

Related job experience:

Related education or training:

Actual initiatives/pilot projects related to WEF Nexus you are/have engaged in:

Previous knowledge of Water-Energy-Food Nexus principles, tools and methods:

Do you have any previous experience in integrated planning of crosssectoral projects or programmes?

Have you attended any previous training on intersectoral collaboration between two sectors or more?

Are you a member of a professional network related to your area of expertise?

Do you have any experience in contributing to online knowledge sharing Networks?

Would you accept to have a short interview if shortlisted to attend the training?

Additional comments (free writing)

Why do you think this training is relevant to your job and your future development, and how is this likely to contribute and serve the Syrian Arab Republic in the recovery and post-conflict phase?

